

Center for Continuing Education

Antioch's Center for Continuing Education (CE) offers professional development opportunities to meet the changing continuing education needs of teachers, leaders and other professionals. Through certificate programs, courses, workshops and special events, CE promotes both learning that connects profession with passion and Antioch as a center for professional growth. Students learn from active professionals in the field who know what's happening now – and what's on the horizon. They work on projects that draw on real-life situations, and develop a network of instructors and classmates they can rely on. Students leave their classes and programs ready to put into action what they've learned.

CE collaborates with a variety of educational partners who bring additional resources to the community, among them:

Heritage Institute, Staff Development for Educators, Education Development Center, Heinemann Publishing, Academy for Coach Training and the Dispute Resolution Center of Snohomish and Island Counties. These partnerships, as well as other CE certificates and courses, extend Antioch's strengths into the community and further serve the needs of alumni. Courses and programs offer either continuing education units or continuing education credits, neither of which may be applied to a degree at Antioch.

Because CE offerings are responsive to community needs, they change often. Antioch's website is the best way to learn about CE programs: www.antiochseattle.edu/ce. Or call 206-268-4111, e-mail ce@antiochseattle.edu or stop by the CE office weekdays between 9 a.m. and 5 p.m. in Room 120 on the Seattle campus.
